

Special Educational Needs

In countries with struggling, underfunded education systems, children with special educational needs can often fall through the cracks. We believe that every child deserves a chance at an education, which is why we extend our Hospitality to these young people.

Our approach

The sisters provide community psychiatric support to children who have psychiatric and mental illness. They collect these children from their homes in the morning, spend time with them at the centre during the day, and return them home in the afternoons. This dedication, care and structure are immensely valuable to the children, and to their families.

Our impact

Our core belief in Hospitality means that we cannot stand by and watch as children are marginalised simply for being different. By reaching out with compassion and understanding to children with special needs, we are empowering them to live fuller, more independent lives.
